GREG DAWSON – Lead Vocals/Rhythm Guitar

Founding member Greg Dawson began playing music as soon as he was tall enough to reach the keyboard on his mother's upright piano. As day follows night, Piano lessons were inevitable.

In 1963, The Beatles invaded America and infected Dawson forever with the need to play Rock'N'Roll. Dawson began playing guitar shortly thereafter. Dawson has been playing in various bands and on his own in the Portland area ever since.

In 1987, Greg Dawson and his friends and fellow musicians Evan Oulashin and Brad Lund began playing on a very casual basis together in a band that would later become Probable Cause.

Dawson's influences are The Beatles, Elvis, Conway Twitty, Roy Orbison, The Doobie Brothers, Single Malt Scotch, and Häagen-Dazs®.

MARK MCDERMOTT – Vocals/Lead Guitar

Mark "Air-Cooled" McDermott joined Probable Cause in late 2000. Originally from New Jersey, Mark began playing guitar at age 10. He has played in several New York-area bands including Riff Raff, Diamond, and Taboo.

His influences include Jeff Beck, David Gilmour, Duane Allman, Eddie Van Halen, Jimi Hendrix, Robin Trower, Gary Moore, Joe Satriani, Steve Vai to name but a few.

Mark has a vast collection of fine guitars, but being a true gearhead firmly believes one can never have too many guitars.

Mark has brought a fresh new powerful feel to Probable Cause with his song writing talents and aggressive guitar style.

KENNY BRATZ - Percussion

Mr. Bratz is native to the Pacific Northwest, however he is not from the Portland area. Kenny Bratz comes from our neighbor to the east. No not the Orient, Idaho. He claims it's a great place to be 'from'.

Kenny has substituted for Probable Cause now and again over the last 10 years or so as well as being the exclusive Photographer of Probable Cause (you can see his handy work at www.kenbratz.net).

Kenny has proven to be a real asset to Probable Cause. He has a 'chameleon like' style that lends itself to most any type of music well.

We'll be getting (another) picture of Kenny and more information on him soon - Stay tuned!

CRAIG 'PAISAN' DICKSON - Vocals/Electric Bass Guitar

The newest addition to Probable Cause, Craig 'Paisan' Dickson brings a multitude of talents to the table. Craig's songwriting and performing skills are appreciated by peers locally and nationally.

Music and performing have been a huge part of who Craig is since early childhood. Craig, also known as 'CC', picked up his first instrument while still in grade school and it seems like he's had one in his hands ever since.

Craig has toured with Tina Turner, played with Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass, rubbed shoulders with the likes of Heart, and had appearances on network television.

With Probable Cause, Paisan sees the opportunity to take his experience and knowledge to new levels and offer the audience a truly unique experience. "We are focused on remaining in the ranks of the top performing acts in the area while setting our sights on the sky."

Probable Cause has always been able to separate itself from what everyone else is doing. With Craig as part of the lineup, Probable Cause is poised to continue that tradition as well as shoot for loftier goals!
